Red Cross Kicks Off Building Fund

On Saturday, May 30th, 1970, the Minden Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society will launch its fund raising Campaign to raise the necessary funds to pay for their share of the extensive renovations which have been done at our Outpost Hospital, in order to make it more efficient and to provide better service and care for our ever-expanding population.

Two new bedrooms with adjoining bathrooms have been installed in the area that was the Nurses Residence.

A new fire alarm system, a new nurse call system, and a radio receiving set for contact with the ambulance have been installed.

The front entrance to the hospital has been changed to provide a new office, a much improved out-patient treatment area and waiting room.

Other changes have been made that facilitates the nursing care and makes it even more efficient than this service has ever been. The cost of this renovation scheme is shared by three agencies- Ontario Hospital Services, Ontario division of the Canadian Red Cross Society and your local Red Cross Branch.

Our local hospital was opened in June, 1956 by Mr. Leslie Frost, Premier of Ontario at that time. Since then the population of the area and the influx of summer residents has steadily increased so that the above changes have become very necessary.

Many programmes have been planned for the summer months and the community will be notified of these through our very co-operative local newspaper.

An opening ceremony will be held in front of the Bank, Saturday, May 30, at 2:00 P. M.

This is your Hospital, erected here to serve you and your families, with the best possible service...Red Cross can supply. Please support 'your' campaign with whatever you can afford.

HUGE CROWD ATTENDED MINOR HOCKEY BANQUET - ARNIE BROWN GAINS FANS

A gathering of 129 parents and hockey players attended the annual Minor Hockey wind-up banquet held on Saturday evening, May 23rd., in the Anglican Church.

After everyone had enjoyed a delicious meal, catered to by the Anglican Church Women, President of the Minor Hockey Al Greir welcomed everyone in attendance, and thanked all parents, coaches, managers and executive for their kind cooperation throughout the 1969-70 season.

This was the 10th year for organized Minor Hockey in OMHA play here in Minden. The late Ralph Hussey, Don Campbell and Bob Beeney started this organization which has been thriving ever since. This year eight teams played in a league schedule.

Reeve Charles Brandon thanked the Minor Hockey executive and those active in this association, on behalf of Council and the community, for their efforts in organizing hockey for the youngsters of Minden. He also extended a welcome for anyone interested in the new community centre building to attend a meeting on Wednesday, May 27, (last night) in the municipal office.

Mrs. Betty Hicks, on behalf of the hockey players presented silver hockey tie pins to all the coaches and managers of the various teams.

The highlight of the evening was guest speaker Arnie Brown, star defenceman of the New York Rangers. He was introduced by Gene Whitney.

Arnie gave a very interesting talk about the New York Rangers and the Boston Bruins Stanley Cup Series this spring, and some of the reasons why they lost to Boston. He showed great admiration for Bobby Orr of Boston team, stating that if Orr stayed away from injuries, that he would become the greatest player to ever play the game.

HERE AND THERE

with Fenwick Finch

Ever since I mentioned the possibility of the "Peace Festival" going to be held in the White Lake area below Gooderham I have received 'phone calls and letters from some of the summer residents. They were quite concerned about the Festival going through.

The rumour has been stopped and the White Lakers need have no further worry — the Festival will not be coming into this area. It seems, according to all newspaper reports that the Karma Productions are dickering for some thousand acres in Cardwell Township in the Muskokas. So much for that, it is certainly a relief to know we aren't going to be subject to this.

* * * *

Tucked away in my recent letter from Mrs. K. Lunham was this small clipping referring to "flying saucers" — the letter to the editor was signed by D. Bonner formally of the RCN. It said in part — "As a former member of Canada's Armed Forces, I spent some time guarding one of these machines which was in an Air Force Hanger at H.M.C.S. Shearwater, Halifax, Nova Scotia, back in 1952.

I did not see the machine uncovered because great secrecy surrounded the whole area, but I do know that it was approximately seventy feet in diameter, saucer-shaped and covered with canvas.

This, as well as other reports makes you wonder at so many of these reports being put down as hallucinations.

As time goes on we are seeing more and more highly organized violence on the streets and the college campuses. Where is it going to end? Nothing is going to be gained by violence except an increased cost in tax levies to pay for the property damaged — we, the lowly tax payer are going to be expected to foot the bill — and we will, with little or no complaint.

These continuous confrontations are so highly organized it would almost seem there is a "master mind" behind the whole thing. So far, being a small community we have been spared any such performances, but it could happen under the right conditions.

* * * *

Here's a piece of graffiti I had sent to me. It was in reversed or mirror writing.

"—ngis siht dniheb deppart ma I — 'pleh."
You can figure that one out.

* * * *

The many friends of Mrs. Kitty Harding will be sorry to hear that she is in the Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay. Drop her a card and help cheer her up.

* * * *

Here's something to think about — this little piece of data came in the mail yesterday. "We live on a third of what we eat — the doctor lives on the other two-thirds."

When Dr. Koval put me on the skimpy diet I'm on now he couldn't have known about this piece of information.

* * * *

Well, that's about it for another week. Drive carefully and you'll be around to enjoy your summer cottage to it's fullest extent. Over the past weekends we have had fewer accidents — let's keep it up. Better to go home the way you came — not in a meat wagon.

1 Million Loan Fund To Help Camp Operators

The announcement of a $1 million loan fund for tourist operators in Ontario comes as a real shot in the arm for the industry in Haliburton County. Announcement of the loan fund was made last week by the legislature, will provide

Tourism and Information minister, James A. C. Auld and Stanley J. Randall, minister of Trade and Development. The fund which is to be established with the approval of the legislature, will provide

The loans will be made available to resort operators wishing to extend their operating season by winterizing their accommodations, providing year-round facilities, or by other means.

Northern Ontario operators, where hunting and fishing attracts visitors from outside the province, may also apply for loans.

Applicants must demonstrate the soundness of their proposals and indicate an ability to repay the loan. Loans will not be available for refinancing of existing mortgages or to companies insolvent or in bankruptcy.

Mr. Auld said he was pleased that a modest start has been made to assist resort owners, particularly in northern sections of the province, to lengthen their operating season.

The impact of the snowmobile on bush country and resort areas is believed to be one of the reasons behind the establishment of the fund.

EAT YOUR HEART OUT

For the fishermen who have not caught a Lake Trout — eat your heart out. I am green with envy, but I still have to praise Len Lonsberry, pictured below with his fine catch of Lake Trout.

The big one weighed in at just a smidgen over 10 pounds, while those little fellows hit the scale at 4 pounds each. Len caught these troulling one evening — "away over there", he said, pointing his finger more up in the air than in any certain direction.

Len is probably one of the best fishermen in the area, for he catches more fish — more big fish, than anyone I know. This spring he has had very little time to dip his line, and with bad weather and all, has only caught a mere 19 Lake Trout. They have all been of good size, his second largest one went over 9 pounds.

The old editor will have to keep plugging away, my record to date isn't quite so impressive — after five years in this county — many hours spent fishing — a small fortune in lost plugs — miles of lost line — I'm still waiting patiently for the first Laker to come along. As the kids say, "Eat your heart out dad".

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

May 22, 1970
"Sandy Bay
Cottage Owner"

Dear Sir:

The first long weekend of the year started off with a bang again, with no heed of the young ones out for their first boat ride or just stopping to drop a line in to catch a fish passing by.

I'm speaking about some of the teenagers and oldsters driving their new boats and such, up and down the river as if the very devil was after them, there must be some way to slow them down, if you ask them, they say, you don't own the river, or mind your own business, we have a cottage on "Gull River" have been up here for 12 years or so, and have tried to mind our own business, but we do respect the boating rules. This doesn't make for a happy summer and friendly boaters.

It seems a shame to make a mock of boating rules and break the stillness of this beautiful little river from "Gull Lake" to "Minden".

Maybe there can be something done?

Set the pace and it trolls all day. The Evinrude 9½ is a fisherman's best friend.

Fishermen talk about their outboards almost as much as they do about the "one that got away". Evinrude is the name you keep hearing.

The Evinrude 9½ is the largest selling outboard motor in the world. It's an all round outboard with 20 m.p.h. speeds to get you to your fishing quickly. Eight tilt-up positions let you troll all day through weeds and shallows. A trolling adjustment maintains the exact speed you want, quietly. Its low silhouette lets you fish over this outboard, not around it.

The 9½ is just one of the Evinrude fishing fleet. See them all including 1½, 4, 6, 9½, 18 and 25 hp., at your Evinrude dealer's.

FISHIN' FACTS

BY BOB HAWTHORNE

ABOUT FLY LINES

There are two types of lines available to the fly fisherman — floating and sinking. The general rule of thumb is that floating lines are used for fishing dry, panfish flies, and bass bugs, whereas sinking lines are used for wet flies, bucktails, nymphs, and streamers. There are, however, exception to this rule. These two types of lines are further divided into four categories.

1. The Level Fly Line is just what the name implies. It is the same diameter throughout, and is the least expensive of all fly lines. It is widely used by beginners and novices largely because of its economical aspect.

2. The Double Taper Fly Line, which is usually 30 yards long, is the same diameter throughout most of its length, but is tapered to a smaller diameter at each end. This line is much more expensive than the level line, but is well worth the extra cost. Should one taper wear out, the line can be reversed on the reel permitting the use of the other taper. This type of line permits a much more delicate presentation of the fly to the water than does the level line.

3. The Weight Forward Fly Line is similar to the double taper line except that the weight distribution or heavy "belly section" is located near the front of the line rather than in the middle. This is an excellent line to use for casting bass bugs or poppers. And greater distance can be achieved with it. It is also the best line to use when casting into a head wind.

4. The Shooting Taper Fly Line is usually only 30 feet long and is of the sinking type. It is similar in appearance to the weight forward line. To compensate for its short length, heavy monofilament is spliced to it as a running or shooting line. This line is used when maximum distance is required such as in fishing for steelhead on the west coast.

THE NATION'S BUSINESS

by William Scott M.P.

There are times when those of us in Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition have to exercise great care not to sound like merchants of doom when we speak out against government bungling and government ineptitude. However, we would be derelict in our duty to our constituents, and to the country at large, if we failed to point up the failures of the present government that are holding our country in a deathgrip of inflation and unemployment.

When this government introduced fiscal restraints in March in an effort to curb runaway inflation, they were warned by the best financial minds in the country that the proposed measures would further inhibit growth of the national economy and would thereby create still more unemployment. In lengthy debates on the floor of the House, the opposition parties called on the government to reconsider the restraints in favor of less drastic measures.

The government stubbornly refused to budge, and even chose to ignore pleas from some government members to seek advice from the financial sector before moving ahead with its anti-inflation program. Both the Prime Minister and the Finance Minister stated that the government was prepared to accept a higher than normal rate of unemployment as the price of curbing inflation.

We have seen the tragic results of the government programme but we cannot see an improvement in the inflationary spiral. Unemployment is climbing at an alarming rate; the cost of living index continues to climb; the national economy has slowed to a dangerous degree, and housing starts throughout the country are at an all-time low.

This is the time of year when employment should be at a high point for the year but, instead of improving, it is getting worse. This is also the time of year when thousands of post-secondary school pupils will be looking for summer jobs. A large percentage of the students need employment for the summer in order to pay their fees and expenses for next school year.

This year, however, the students are looking for jobs in a job market that is declining, and they are forced to compete with more than half a million unemployed adults for work.

Needless to say, it is a tragic situation indeed in a country that could provide jobs for all of its people, and then some. In the face of this unemployment among students and adults, the government is plunging ahead with various programmes designed to shift farmers off marginally economic farms and into the cities. These programmes attempt to retrain farmers in skills that they will need in order to find jobs in the cities. This is extraordinary logic indeed when you consider that the jobs simply don't exist.

We are accused of obstructionism for insisting that every piece of legislation proposed by this government receives full debate and full disclosure. But we intend to continue this line of action. We intend to continue to alert the country to the inherent danger in the majority of the legislation being put forward by this government. Compared to our position in the Opposition, Paul Revere had it easy.

DOLLARS AND GOOD SENSE

by William J. Martin

This column is a regular feature prepared by the Family Financial Counseling Service of the Avco Delta Corp., P.O. Box 2820, London, Ontario. All questions submitted to the above address will be answered in print or by mail. Names will not be used in print. However, all questions should be accompanied by a complete name and address.

Dear Mr. Martin:

Thanks very much for recent help. Your suggestions and direction for living within a budget in our family was just what we needed to do for a number of years. I can tell you that it really hurt at first to keep from buying the things we wanted, rather than really needed. But we got into the budget habit and it really pulled us out of our financial dilemma. Now that we are out of the woods and things are going pretty well, my husband is beginning to disregard our budget and spend more on things that we shouldn't. I tell him that if we don't stick to our budget, we'll be right back where we were. Can you help us again?

Mrs. N. H.

I'm glad that I was able to help you, Mrs. H. Let's hope that I can help you again.

Incidentally, your problem is not uncommon to a lot of families who have lived within a budget for a year or two and who start to feel sorry for themselves and how much they have deprived themselves of. They start to slide away from their budget and find themselves right back in trouble again.

While I've always maintained that once a family gets a good budget they should stick to it. I don't mean that it must be absolutely inflexible. Things change. Your needs vary. Perhaps your salary increases. Maybe you get a large debt paid off. Should you stick with the same budget? I don't think so. I believe that it's time you re-evaluated your budget, made adjustments to compensate for the changes in your financial situation and your life. Maybe it's time, too, that you can consider some of those purchases you have deprived yourself of over the past year or two. Perhaps you can afford that sofa now. Or that new car. Or whatever.

I'm not suggesting that you go on one big, wild spending spree. Rather, however, I think you might be able to adjust your budget so that you have more spendable income.

SCHOOL CHILDREN'S ART Exhibit

During the first week of June, in the Gallery of the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts, there will be on exhibit, entries from the Public School children throughout the county of Haliburton.

It is from these entries, that winners will be chosen for scholarships for the Children's Art Course, held at the Summer School.

Mr. Gerald Irish, Principal of Wilberforce Public School, has organized this project, and Schools from all over the county are participating.

These entries will be on exhibit on Tuesday evening, June 2nd, when the Principals, Teachers, and County Councils, have been invited to attend.

Drop into the Gallery, and see what the Public School children are doing with their skills and imagination.

In other words, living within a relatively tight budget for a certain period of time has enabled you to get back on your feet and to actually see a little light at the end of the dark.

But a reminder, please. Don't get too careless again with your spending habits. Don't completely disregard the budget. Remember what happened before and that you must still manage your income and outgo, no matter how financially sound you may be. Good luck and keep me posted on your progress.

TOURIST OPERATORS LOAN FUND — COMMENT BY GLEN HODGSON, M.P.P.

In a joint announcement Tourism and Information Minister James Auld and Trade and Development Minister Stanley Randall have given details on Ontario's $1 Million loan fund for tourist operators.

The fund will provide qualifying resort operators with loans of up to $50,000 at the Ontario Development Corporation rate, currently 9½ per cent. Term of the loan will be negotiable up to a maximum of 15 years.

Loans will be made to resort operators wishing to extend their operating season by winterizing accommodations, providing year-round facilities, or by other means. Northern Ontario tourist operators, where fishing and hunting attracts visitors from outside Ontario, may also apply for loans. The Ministers pointed out that applications will only be accepted from tourist operators where tourism is of major importance.

Applicants must also demonstrate the soundness of their proposal and indicate an ability to repay the loan. Loan will not be available for refinancing of existing mortgages or to companies insolvent or in bankruptcy.

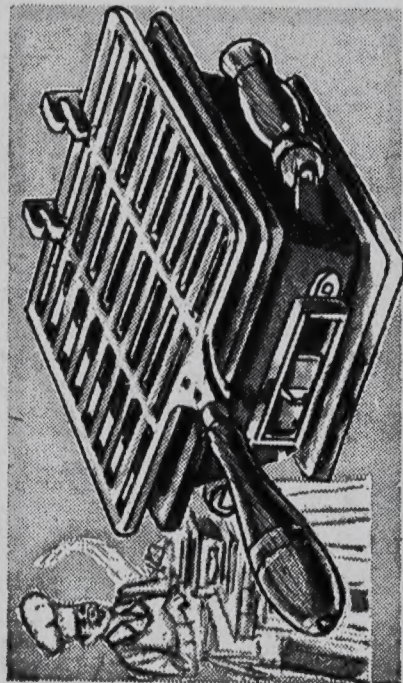

This Loan program is a direct result of the debate on my resolution in last years Parliament on this subject. I have had many meetings about this proposal over the past six months. The program is a start on the need in our area and should show if it is adequate by the number of applications made to the Government.

Agriculture Minister William Stewart has told the Legislature that the Province has signed a new $60 Million Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Act (ARDA) agreement with Ottawa.

Under the terms of the agreement, each government will contribute $30 Million over the next five years. This is the third federal-provincial rural development agreement to be implemented in Ontario since 196.

The Minister said that the agreement "demonstrates that the two governments are deeply committed to corrective measures aimed at easing the anxieties of adjustment and pro-

AROUND THE BASES

with "ARCHIE"

On Monday night an organizational meeting of the Haliburton County Softball League was held at the Dominion Hotel. The main purpose of the meeting was to set up a schedule for the current season and attempt to settle several bones-of-contention which in former years had resulted in arguments.

This was accomplished to a larger degree than in previous years. Certain rules and regulations were agreed upon. While these are too numerous to mention, it is hoped that the ultimate result will be a better league, with fewer disagreements and consequently better entertainment for the county ball fans.

The schedule as can be seen below, starts Sunday. The first home game for Minden is Wednesday against West Guilford. While this is a new team many people I am sure will remember the great teams they had in former years. This team should provide baseball entertainment as good this season as in earlier years.

A different development this year was the decision to have a league executive. The basic outline consists of a representative from each team with a league president. Since there are four teams, the president is the final authority. The purpose of this is also to end disagreements, between teams and hopefully to arrive at a final set of rules and regulations suited to conditions, players and ball parks in the league. At the time of writing Gene Newell from Gelert was a tentative choice for president. It is hoped by all players and fans in the league that Gene will accept this job. A one time native of the area he is both respected and knowledgeable. He will certainly make the league better.

The executive and ball players of the league hope the local citizens will come out and support their team. The ball is "good and the action lively."

BOATING TIPS FOR THE FISHERMAN

The pickerel or walleye season is open and all the favourite spots for luring this gamey fish will be well patronized for the next few weekends.

The pickerel, as this species is commonly called, seems to prefer the turbulent waters at the base of dams, waterfalls, and swift spillways around hydro-electric generating plants or the locks on our inland waterways. This type of water has inherent dangers for the fisherman who attempts to cover them by boat. Ontario Safety League research reveals two chief causes for boating fatalities during the early pickerel season:

The prime cause is attempting to take small fishing boats up fast-running spillways either by hand or power. There are many instances of fishermen not being able to control boats in the swift currents, and when the boat broaches or swings sideways to the current, it capsizes. The Safety League strongly advises fishermen not to attempt to ascend these spillways unless they have sufficient power on their boat to contend with the current and the experience and knowledge to control their boat under these conditions. For the inexperienced, this type of boating is extremely hazardous.

A second cause of accidents among pickerel fishermen, which is not as common as the one just described but still accounts for one or more drownings every spring, occurs when the fisherman takes his boat to the foot of a falls. The stream may not be especially swift but there are back currents which can pull the boat and its occupants under the waterfall. This always ends up with swamping, capsizing and frequently the occupants are drowned because of the strong undertow.

Added to the hazards of swift water and undertow for the pickerel fisherman is water temperature which is still cold enough to sap the strength of a capsized victim quickly. The Ontario Safety League states that he must escape from the enervating effect of cold water within a few minutes or he is doomed. It is interesting to note that most of the survivors of such accidents got to shore and safety through the help of fellow fishermen, not under their own power.

The highlight of the American motor sport season-The Indianapolis 500-takes place May 30 at Speedway City. A flock of international racing drivers will compete for prizes totalling over $800,000. Mario Andretti is the defending champion. The 'Indy' began in 1911 and this is the 54th race (it wasn't held during the war years). CBC has exclusive broadcast rights and CBC radio will have live coverage with commentators Don Gray at the site and Bob Willson in Toronto.

Assignment, which has been running on CBC radio for 14 years in various forms, now adds another segment to its daily five-minute capsule broadcasts. Digging The Past, beginning June 3, is prepared with the co-operation of the National Historic Sites and Monuments Board. Host-interviewer Brian Smith will take us behind the scenes on various digs and discoveries which are bringing our past to light.

In this day of self-examination and questioning of religious values and traditions, many priests and nuns are leaving the church. Some even marry in defiance of their vows. In an era of affluence, freedom and anti-religion, why would anyone want to become a nun? Or is contemplation and prayer more in harmony with these troubled times? Soundings, on June 3, updates The Nun's Story-1970.

One young sociology graduate hasn't had much time lately to follow his training; he's been much too busy writing political satire for CBC Showcase. Murray Soupcoff has an uncanny knack of pointing out the foibles and idiosyncrasies of those in high places and without really trying has come with an unmistakably Canadian brand of humor. His third, light-hearted end-of-the-month look at the news, Inside From The Outside, will be broadcast May 31, in which Canada's first astronauts land on the moon and Toronto separates from the rest of Canada (which some people may think is a good idea!). The show is hosted by faded film star Wendy de Vries, assisted by Max Ferguson, Billy Van. Heath Lamberts and Judy Sinclair. Another show is slated for the end of June, followed by three more on the last Saturdays of July, August and September.

Gordie Tapp, otherwise known as Cousin Clem, the local yokel with the squeaky laugh and bucolic humor, is a busy man these days. He's one of the stars of the country TV show, Hee Haw. When not in Nashville, he can often be found on a Canadian Forces Show tour for CBC radio. Tapp is one of the featured performers on On Stage, May 30, coming from CFS Dana, Saskatchewan, and CFS Beaverlodge, Alberta. Next he puts in an appearance at CFB Borden, Ont. it will wind up the On Stage season June 27.

Weather Or Not

During spring every fisherman should have his own crystal ball.

For this is the time of year when the whims of weather affect fishing success the most.

However, you can be your own weather expert. According to Red Fisher, the fishing authority at Mercury outboards, there are ways to analyze weather and what it means to your chances of fishing success. The secret lies in interpreting the forecast in terms of how it affects fish.

Rapid changes in barometric pressure, up or down, greatly affect fish feeding activity. A sudden change in air pressure seems to disturb fish and they quit feeding. Most barometric changes are due to the formation of fronts—either cold or warm.

Cold fronts form when cold air pushes its way under a warm air mass, forcing it up. Cold air replaces warm air, clouds form, and violent rainstorms often rage in a narrow line along the front. Air pressure becomes heavier and the wind reverses direction from its normal clockwise flow. Cold fronts generally mean storms; storms usually put fish off their feed.

Warm fronts lessen the air pressure, bringing clouds and thunderstorms along a wide belt. This, too, will cause fish to stop feeding.

Of course, there are exceptions to these general rules. At times fishing in the rain—a slow drizzle, can be very productive.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank my friends and neighbours for being so kind to me and my family while I was a patient at Ross Memorial Hospital. Your many cards, gifts and visits were greatly appreciated. A special thanks to Wanietta Kimble for coming in and taking care of me after I was home. Thanks Wan.

The children of the Rideau Regional Hospital School at Smiths Falls would like to send a thank you note to Marg Prentice and Phylis Campbell for the records they sent them. Also a very special thank you to Laura Bleakley of Brampton for the many boxes of toys, books, records and old jewellery, she very willingly collected and sent to these children. Many thanks to all of you.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to all those friends and neighbours who express sympathy in many ways, with the passing of my husband John Berry. A special thanks to Mrs. Barnhart who helped me out a great deal at this time.
